Distance Learning \(as per letter dated 8 June\)

During the week of 22nd June, the week prior to the exams, and during the two-week exam period (29th June-13th July) students will not be given any distance learning for any other subjects other than those of the exam subjects. The distance learning they receive should support revision in their exam subjects. The exceptions for this are GCSE and OCR PE, psychology, DT Products and Art and Design who require time for your child to complete coursework in those subjects should they study them.
